HELLO FRIEND

I'm Morgan

a photographer based in beautiful North Idaho, and I'm always ready to travel across the surrounding states to capture special moments. My journey with photography began in 2017 when my husband and I embarked on an unforgettable road trip. I picked up a camera to document our adventure and quickly realized that photography is so much more than just pictures—it's a way to tell stories. This realization sparked my passion for capturing life's meaningful moments and has shaped my approach behind the lens ever since. I love creating images that feel genuine, emotional, and timeless, and I can't wait to help tell your story through my lens.
